

BULLETIN ROSEMOND JAMES, ECCAA, ANTIGUA
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Attached are photographs of Rosemond James, who is one of my two co-workers missing in Haiti. Mr. James is a St. Lucian by birth and a citizen of Antigua and Barbuda.

He is about 6 feet 1 inch tall and weights about 190 lbs with dark complexion. Rosemond James is the Director General of the Eastern Caribbean Civil Aviation Authority (ECCAA).

He and Gregory Mc Alpin, the Director of Flight Safety of the ECCAA went to Haiti to attend a meeting of the Civil Aviation Safety and Security Oversight System (CASSOS).

They traveled to Haiti on Tuesday 12th January 2010 from Miami on American Airlines flight 1291 which would have arrived Port-au-Prince, shortly after 12:00 noon.

They both checked in at the Montana Hotel. So far they have not been accounted for.

The Eastern Caribbean Civil Aviation Authority requests your assistance towards rescuing our colleagues Mr. Rosemond James and Mr. Gregory Mc Alpin
